About the Speaker

Philip Chan is an Associate Professor with the Department of Building, School of Design and Environment, National University of Singapore. He also practises under the law firm of Messrs Philip CF Chan. Dr Chan is the former Executive Director and Registrar of the Singapore International Arbitration Centre and is a practising arbitrator. He has been invited by several public and private organisations to give talks and carry out in-house training on matters of construction law including the use of standard form of building contracts and arbitration. He currently sits on the Board of Directors of KLW Holdings, a public listed company that specialises in wood products, as an independent director.

He had graduated with a Diploma in Building from the Singapore Polytechnic in 1976 and worked in the construction industry. He went on to obtain his LLB and LLM from the University of London. Recently, he completed his PhD under the supervision of Duncan Wallace QC. The title of his thesis is “The Development of Construction Law in Singapore”.

His research interest, publication and practice are in the areas of construction law and arbitration. The International Construction Law Review has published several of his papers. He has co-written five books. They are Halsbury's Laws of Singapore Volume 2 in the Building and Construction section (original and 2003 Reissue), the Public Sector Standard Conditions of Contract: A Commentary, and the Construction Law Casebook (volumes 1 & 2). On his own, he has written the Commonwealth Construction Cases: A Singapore Perspective.
